Remembering Jean Moore

by Zak, Marlys, Sheryl, Jan, Susan and Sally,

There was a quiet joy about Jean Moore, reminiscent of Gracie Allen. A contagious warmth and happiness punctuated with her one liners that always brought a smile to your face. There isn't anyone who wouldn't say Jean's humor was her greatest attribute.

Jean had an unassuming air that filled the room with her subtle presence. She always had an extra hug when welcoming neighbors and friends into her home. This usually came with a cup of tea, coffee or wine depending on the time of day. Jean was never too busy for drop-in guests, always happy to greet a friendly face.

Jean became an instant friend to those whom she met. Jean was an active member of the Community Council and was one of the original founders of the organization. She served as a Director and member of the Board throughout the life of the Council. She was a part of a ladies' Walking Group, participating since becoming a resident of Bayview. Jean and Bob single-handedly organized cookies and coffee for returning World War II Naval Veterans at the Farragut reunion each September. Jean was famously known as the Cookie Queen, always offering sweets to friends and strangers.

Bob and Jean have two daughters: Julie and Jennifer. After raising their kids they eventually left Chicago and migrated to Kalispell, Montana where Jean was employed at the Family Medical Associates Clinic. Jean was also on the medical team during the filming of the movie "Heaven's Gate." She was a top notch nurse receiving many commendations from doctors, hospitals, and the University of Washington WWAMI program.

They found Bayview in 1999 and built their retirement home overlooking Lake Pend Orielle. They loved to travel by car and train seeing the countryside as they went.

Jean leaves behind her loving family and many friends to gather together and celebrate her life on August 13, at MacDonald's Resort, 3 p.m. This will be a potluck. Bob and family request donations be made to: Hospice of North Idaho in Jean's Name.

Farewell Friend, you will be sorely missed

Vote May 16

by Sheryl Puckett (Views do not reflect the Council)

Democracy truly works when the most qualified person succeeds. Bayview has any number of qualified retired people. When they choose to serve our community we need to be prepared to take advantage of their expertise. One such example is Robyn Edwards, candidate for Bayview Water & Sewer Director Position. Her competence and experience are invaluable. She is made for this job. Robyn is ideally suited and her experience and commitment to community service motivates her to run for this position.

Having attended the Bayview Candidates Meet & Greet Forum, I can tell you that Robyn answered all the questions thoughtfully, in great detail and comprehensively. She did such a great job that one Bayview resident from the audience couldn't refrain from remarking aloud that it would be a shame not to have Robyn on the Board.

I applaud Norma Jean Knowles for caring to run, however, Robyn has the credentials to carry BWS forward. Robyn is the only candidate that has real experience with water and sewer system management and operation. Please vote on May 16 for Robyn Edwards, a responsible choice.

New Restaurant: Brunches Open for Breakfast and Lunches

A new restaurant is on the menu for the former Mario's in downtown Bayview. They are hoping for an early June opening. Jeff and Ann Calhoun plan to call the new eatery "Brunches."

The Calhoun's moved from Portland to Sagle in 2009. Ann has 30 years restaurant experience. Crepes and quinoa salads are some items on their family style menu. Jeff stated that he wants this to be a friendly place where folks can feel comfortable reaching for the coffee pot and refilling their cups. He looks forward to getting to know the community and wants to support the community by remaining open in the winter. Business hours will be Mon. thru Sat. 6-3 p.m., Sun. 7-2 p.m., seven days a week through the summer.

Jeff and Ann plan to serve beer, wine and champagne when the liquor license is approved. Right now Jeff is busy repainting. Outdoor seating will be available, as it was in the past.

Pen d'Oreille City Investigations Update

by Laurie Mauser

The Kootenai County Historic Preservation Commission has received a Certified Local Government grant from the National Park Service to complete the second phase of archaeological investigations at Pen d'Oreille City in Farragut. In association with the University of Idaho, recording and mapping of the site will be completed. Ground penetrating radar will identify below surface features. A U of I graduate student has also obtained grant funding for research for her master's thesis under the direction of Dr. Robert Sappington, principal investigator for Phase 2. Work begins in June with opportunity for public involvement in the fieldwork. The site will then be nominated for inclusion onto the National Register of Historic Places. (This is the historic spelling of Pend' Oreille)

Take a Shot at the Wild Side

by Mike Lee

Modern super-zoom digital cameras offer everyone the opportunity to capture amazing wildlife images. Shooting wildlife with a camera provides benefits to both the photographer and our wild animal neighbors.

"Do Not Disturb!" Just like a hunter with a gun, if you spook the animal, you miss the shot. It is hard enough for wildlife to survive without paparazzi seeking a closeup. Always respect wildlife while hunting for that perfect shot. Use your zoom and tripod.

Remember cameras can kill. Being scared away from food or water, even being overly stressed, can be deadly for wildlife. As is being fed for a picture, then acting unafraid of the next human who may have a gun.

Look around and you will be amazed how much life awaits your focus. Even insects make for great subjects. Not to mention: pets, livestock, birds and your fellow humans.

Patience brings rewards, as does fast, practiced reflexes. There are many tricks used in wildlife photography. Some that are just wrong and even cruel.

Animals are afraid of humans and flee our attention for good reason. They are intelligent and curiously aware of our presence. Try to act casually and respectfully. Naturalists say, "Humans are the only species lacking consciousness."

Do a google search for "best way to photograph wildlife." Read the great advice that is available. Treat animals as you want to be treated yourself and the natural world will reward you with many wild photographic memories.

Wildlife photography is a healthy hobby. You'll begin to see the world through new eyes. The trails of Farragut Park await you. Don't forget to turn on your burst mode.

On April 23, thirteen Council members, after bowling, went to lunch at Capone's in Hayden.

Plan for a day trip to Schweitzer Resort in June to see the new lodge.
